Notes: These data should be read in conjunction with the explanatory notes.

(1) Bookmaker betting expenditure is estimated at 5.5 percent of turnover.

(2) Figure is included in TAB expenditure (discrete data were not available).

(3) On-course totalisator expenditure calculated at 16 percent of parimutuel turnover.

(4) Figure is inclusive of both TAB and on-course totalisator expenditure (discrete data were not available).

Between 1998–99 and 2006–07, racing expenditure on TAB and on-course totalisators has been calculated at 16.0 percent of turnover – the maximum average commission rate across all parimutuel pools under the relevant legislation at that time.

(5) TAB expenditure calculated at 15.7 percent of parimutuel turnover plus actual "gross profit" of fixed odds racing.

(6) Actual expenditure.

(7) Actual expenditure - including fixed odds racing - plus roundings (retained by TABCorp - derived by the rounding down of dividends to the $0.10 below the calculated dividend).

Notes: These data should be read in conjunction with the explanatory notes.

(1) Bookmaker betting expenditure is estimated at 5.5 percent of turnover.

(2) Figure is included in TAB expenditure (discrete data were not available).

(3) On-course totalisator expenditure calculated at 16 percent of parimutuel turnover.

(4) Figure is inclusive of both TAB and on-course totalisator expenditure (discrete data were not available).

Between 1998–99 and 2006–07, racing expenditure on TAB and on-course totalisators has been calculated at 16.0 percent of turnover – the maximum average commission rate across all parimutuel pools under the relevant legislation at that time.

(5) TAB expenditure calculated at 15.7 percent of parimutuel turnover plus actual "gross profit" of fixed odds racing.

(6) Actual expenditure.

(7) Actual expenditure - including fixed odds racing - plus roundings (retained by TABCorp - derived by the rounding down of dividends to the $0.10 below the calculated dividend).

Notes:

These data should be read in conjunction with the explanatory notes.

Data for the gambling revenue received by states and territories from 1 July 2000 onward are not comparable with that of preceding years because of the impact of changes brought about by the introduction of the GST.

(1) State tax on bookmakers turnover was abolished on 30 March 2002, therefore government revenue for bookmakers on-course only includes nine months worth of revenue.

(2) Nil government revenue for bookmakers on course due to abolition of bookmaker tax 30 March 2002.

(3) Data combined with government revenue from TAB.

(4) Government revenue from TAB includes on-course totalisators.

Notes:

These data should be read in conjunction with the explanatory notes.

Data for the gambling revenue received by states and territories from 1 July 2000 onward are not comparable with that of preceding years because of the impact of changes brought about by the introduction of the GST.

(1) State tax on bookmakers turnover was abolished on 30 March 2002, therefore government revenue for bookmakers on-course only includes nine months worth of revenue.

(2) Nil government revenue for bookmakers on course due to abolition of bookmaker tax 30 March 2002.

(3) Data combined with government revenue from TAB.

(4) Government revenue from TAB includes on-course totalisators.

Notes: These data should be read in conjunction with the explanatory notes.

(1) NSW does not collect information relating to minor gaming. Previous data provided related to total value of prizes in trade promotion lottery competitions which are free entry and as such there is no revenue/turnover.

(2) This estimation was calculated by applying the same ratio of expenditure to turnover for the casino in 2000-01 (16.9 percent) to the calculated expenditure for the current year.

(3) No data were collected for gaming machine turnover for registered clubs and hotels for the August and November 2001 (clubs) and September and December 2001 (hotels) quarters. The turnover for these quarters was based on the turnover for the February and March 2001 quarters respectively.

(4) Total turnover incomplete due to unavailable figures for keno turnover.

(5) Total turnover incomplete due to unavailable figures for casino turnover.

(6) Data only available for 3 months April to June 2010.

NA = Not applicable

U = Unavailable data

Notes: These data should be read in conjunction with the explanatory notes.

(1) NSW does not collect information relating to minor gaming. Previous data provided related to total value of prizes in trade promotion lottery competitions which are free entry and as such there is no revenue/turnover.

(2) This estimation was calculated by applying the same ratio of expenditure to turnover for the casino in 2000-01 (16.9 percent) to the calculated expenditure for the current year.

(3) No data were collected for gaming machine turnover for registered clubs and hotels for the August and November 2001 (clubs) and September and December 2001 (hotels) quarters. The turnover for these quarters was based on the turnover for the February and March 2001 quarters respectively.

(4) Total turnover incomplete due to unavailable figures for keno turnover.

(5) Total turnover incomplete due to unavailable figures for casino turnover.

Notes:

These data should be read in conjunction with the explanatory notes.

Data for the gambling revenue received by states and territories from 1 July 2000 onward are not comparable with that of preceding years because of the impact of changes brought about by the introduction of the GST.

(1) State tax on bookmaker's turnover was abolished on 30 March 2002, therefore government revenue for bookmaker (and other) fixed odds only includes nine months worth of revenue for 2001-02 and nil revenue thereafter.

(2) Government revenue data for TAB tote odds are for NSW investments only.

Notes:

These data should be read in conjunction with the explanatory notes.

Data for the gambling revenue received by states and territories from 1 July 2000 onward are not comparable with that of preceding years because of the impact of changes brought about by the introduction of the GST.

(1) State tax on bookmaker's turnover was abolished on 30 March 2002, therefore government revenue for bookmaker (and other) fixed odds only includes nine months worth of revenue for 2001-02 and nil revenue thereafter.

(2) Government revenue data for TAB tote odds are for NSW investments only.

Notes: These data should be read in conjunction with the explanatory notes.
Data for the gambling revenue received by states and territories from 1 July 2000 onward are not comparable with that of preceding years because of the impact of changes brought about by the introduction of the GST.

(1) Total racing revenue is incomplete due to some unavailable revenue figures that are used to derive this number.

Notes:

These data should be read in conjunction with the explanatory notes.

Data for the gambling revenue received by states and territories from 1 July 2000 onward are not comparable with that of preceding years because of the impact of changes brought about by the introduction of the GST.

(1) Government revenue from interactive gaming includes both tax and product levies received.

(2) Government revenue from betting exchanges is no longer recorded in interactive gaming and has been apportioned between government revenue from sportsbetting and government revenue from racing.

(3) Minor gaming revenue incorrectly reported in previous years. No tax is received for minor gaming activities, only income is from application fees.

Notes: These data should be read in conjunction with the explanatory notes.
Data for the gambling revenue received by states and territories from 1 July 2000 onward are not comparable with that of preceding years because of the impact of changes brought about by the introduction of the GST.

(1) Total sportsbetting revenue is incomplete due to some unavailable revenue figures that are used to derive this number.

Data for the gambling revenue received by states and territories from 1 July 2000 onward are not comparable with that of preceding years because of the impact of changes brought about by the introduction of the GST.

(1) Changes in taxes payable by bookmakers was introduced in January 2010. ($4.973m was collected as turnover tax and $1.102m was collected as gross profit tax).

(2) Gross profit tax is not based on turnover and is also capped and therefore cannot be determined as relative to racing or sports. As a consequence, all revenue is reported as racing revenue.

Notes: These data should be read in conjunction with the explanatory notes.
Data for the gambling revenue received by states and territories from 1 July 2000 onward are not comparable with that of preceding years because of the impact of changes brought about by the introduction of the GST.

(1) Changes in taxes payable by bookmakers was introduced in January 2010. ($4.973m was collected as turnover tax and $1.102m was collected as gross profit tax).

(2) Gross profit tax is not based on turnover and is also capped and therefore cannot be determined as relative to racing or sports. As a consequence, all revenue is reported as racing revenue.

Notes:

These data should be read in conjunction with the explanatory notes.

Data for the gambling revenue received by states and territories from 1 July 2000 onward are not comparable with that of preceding years because of the impact of changes brought about by the introduction of the GST.

(1) Changes in taxes payable by bookmakers was introduced in January 2010. ($0.193m was collected as turnover tax and $1.102m was collected as gross profit Tax).

(2) Gross profit tax is not based on turnover and is also capped and therefore cannot be determined as relative to racing or sports. As a consequence, all revenue is reported as racing revenue.
