Main findings

- Brisbane's headline consumer price index (CPI) decreased 0.2% in November 2025, resulting in an annual inflation of 5.1%. In annual terms Brisbane recorded the largest inflation figure of all capital cities in Australia (Table 1).
- Compared with the weighted average of the eight capital cities for the year ending November 2025, Brisbane recorded stronger contributions from the CPI groups of 'Housing', 'Transport', and 'Alcohol and tobacco' (Figure 1).
- For Brisbane, the 'Housing' group made the largest contribution to inflation over the year to November 2025 (2.38 percentage points). Within this group, the 'Electricity' subgroup increased 456.1% over the year, reflecting the unwinding of electricity rebates from a year earlier.
- For Brisbane, there were no groups that recorded a detraction from inflation over the year to November 2025.
- Australia's trimmed mean inflation, which excludes more volatile items, increased 0.3% in November 2025 with an annual inflation rate of 3.2% (Figure 2).
