

Queensland Government Statistician's Office

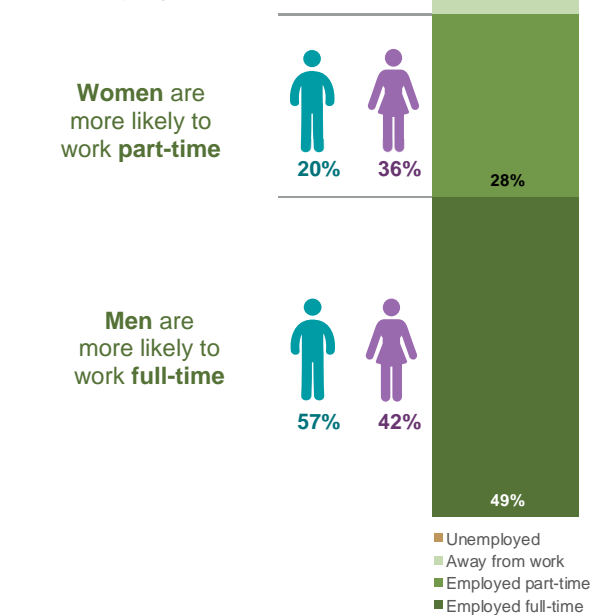

6,830 Queenslanders reported Australian South Sea Islander ancestry

2 in 3 also identified as Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander

Almost 3 in 4 Australian South Sea Islanders in Queensland were participating in the labour force, around half of these were employed full-time

Queensland's Australian South Sea Islander population had a younger age structure than the rest of Queensland's population

45% were under 25 years of age

Half of Queensland's Australian South Sea Islanders aged 15–64 years had completed Year 12 or equivalent

1 in 4 men were employed as Labourers

1 in 4 women were employed as Community and Personal Service Workers

Over 3 in 4 employed in Health Care and Social Assistance were female

1 in 7 provided unpaid assistance to a person with a disability

Around 1 in 5 had volunteered

Queensland's Australian South Sea Islander 15–24 year olds:

7 in 10 were either working or studying

3 in 4 were fully engaged in education, training, and/or employment

"Not stated" and "Not applicable" responses for all variables have been excluded from the analyses. "Inadequately described" were excluded from analyses of industry and occupation. Labour force analysis applies to persons aged 15–64 years only.